ABOUT ME

My name is Sam Brink and I am a young creative from Cape Town, South African.

My strengths are illustration and branding, but I have a particular knack for creating things with my hands. I draw a lot of my inspiration from the irregular beauty and patterns in nature, bold colours and the more simple things in life. I believe that hand made things are the most true and personalised expression of one's creative ability.

EDUCATION

2015 - 2017

Vega School of Brand Leadership, Cape Town

BA Creative Brand Communication.

At Vega, I discovered and developed my interest of using illustration in the world of advertising. I also developed an appreciation for the merit in handcrafted packaging and design in such a digital world.
